Sam Fogg, United Kingdom, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. The Lygo Collection of Qur an manuscripts, which date from around a century after the Prophet Muhammad s death in 632 CE to the middle of the 16th century, includes pages from some of the most celebrated manuscripts of the period as well as lesser-known ones, and provide a comprehensive overview of stylistic developments in Qur anic calligraphy and illumination. During the period represented by this outstanding collection, the scripts and formats used for copying and illuminating the Holy Word multiplied and developed visual testimony to the extraordinary exchange of ideas that took place under the Abbasid dynasty, which stretched at its height from the Atlantic to the borders of China. The consistent esteem in which the art of the calligrapher was held across the Islamic world reflected the status of the Qur an as the unmediated word of Allah and its centrality to the notions of Islamic culture and identity. As the most continuously copied text in the Islamic world the Qur an is one of the best prisms through which to view changes in calligraphy and manuscript production a survey of which is given in an introductory essay. Accompanying beautiful reproductions of each of the 73 objects in the collection are detailed descriptions in which the characteristic of the script and design as well as the history of each manuscript is considered. Important early examples in the Lygo Collection include a folio from a famous late 8th-century Qur an written entirely in gold Kufi script, every page of which is framed by an illuminated border, and a leaf from the Blue Qur an one of the most famous and luxurious Kufi Qur an manuscripts, written in gold on blue parchment, dating to the 9th...
